Picase note the small amount of expenses in proportion to the profits. of the interest paid by members for advances, amounting to $39,359.33, all of $27,672.46 roes back to them as dividends on their shares. We are redeeming the shares of the first series with 12 per cent per annum profit. In March of next year we shall begin to reasem the shares of the second series at the same rate of interest. We pay 5 per cent per annum on shares withdrawn. We pay 6 per cent per annum on deposits, being payments in advance on shares. Interest monthly it required and principal payable on demand. This is a big feature of our association, and our special payments now amount to $150,000. Shares when matured are redeemed with the full share of profits that properly attach to them, viz: 12 per cent per annum. All shares are treated alike; those on which alvances have been made share in the profits equally with the others.

Advances are made on very favorable terms, $150 for payment of $2 monthly, $7.50 on five shares for $10 monthly, $1,500 on ten shares for $20 monthly, $3,000 on twenty shares for $40 monthly. Settlement of one or more advances can be made at any time and the rayment of interest storped. The tenth series ment of one or more advances can be made at any time and the payment of interest stopped. The tenth series and the payment of interest stopped. The tenth series commences in November. Shares can be taken at any time at office of secretary.

The regular monthly and the annual meeting will be held at the office of the secretary on WEDNESDAY EVENING. November 5, when a few amendments to the constitution, made necessary by the increased business of the association, will be acted on.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As there seems to be some misunderstanding about the object of the MERCHANTS' MUTUAL PRO-TECTIVE UNION I wish to make public the following: The Merchants' Mutual Protective Union is not an organization to blackmail, bulldoze or intimidate persons who owe bills, but to protect its members against those who can but will not pay their bills. If persons fail to make satisfactory settlement with the members they owe, after having been notified, that is their fault, not the members', and they have no right the members they owe, after having been notified, that is their fault, not the members', and they have no right the members they owe, after having been notified, that is their fault, not the members', and they have no right the members they owe, after having been notified, that is their fault, not the members', and they have no right the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe, after having been notified, that is the members they owe after having been notified, that is the members they owe after having been notified. to complain if their name is put on record as being that of a person unworthy of credit. Those who live in states IN THE SIXTH MARYLAND DISTRICT or districts which are considered close have taken the greatest interest in the campaign and have generally gone home to deposit their

THE UPTOWN DEPARTMENTS. Except from the Treasury Department there has not been any very marked exodus of clerks for voting purposes this fall as affects those departments on the western end of the line around the White House. The Treasury has contributed very generously to the voting population of the country, about 750 of the 3.000 clerks and employes having been granted leave, or 25 per cent. It is possible, of course, TUESDAY, October 28, 1890...... 30,313 on ordinary vacations without any decided that these clerks include a number who are off In the War Department, with its 1,700 employes, the number of absentees is about as usual, but it is not thought that over 5 per cent have gone home to vote. A very few certificates have been issued by the Secretary. There are 228 people on the rolls of the Navy Department, of whom about thirty-five are absent, or about 15 per cent of all.

The State Department is wholly free from the voting epidemic. There are seventy em-ployes enrolled, of whom but two are now away from their desks. One of these is in Europe and the other is a Washingtonian without a vote. The Department of Justice has about ninety folks to look out for, of whom 9 or 10 per cent are away, all for voting purposes. Thus in these five "uptown" departments there is an average absence of about 11 per cent of the

The principal officials of the department, however, will exercise their right of citizenship. Mr. Wanamaker will vote in Philadelphia, the first assistant, Col. Whitfield, in Ohio and Gen. Hazen, the third assistant, in Pennsylvania. Mr. J. Lowrie Bell, the second assistant, will be acting postmaster general. Mr. Bell is paired with a democrat and will not go home to vote.

THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT. It is difficult to form an estimate of the numpurpose of voting. The usual number of employes on the rolls of the department is 3.500, but the census office is a bureau of the department and its force of employes, numbering now some 2,300, adds bout two-thirds to the clerical force. thiry of the entire force, it is estimated by the acting appointment clerk, Mr. Clarence G. Allen, who is an expert in statistics, are women. It is calculated that about 20 per cent of the male clerks go home to vote. On this basis the Interior Department will be represented at the polls tomorrow by nearly 800 clerks. The Secretary. Gen. Noble, has a vote at his home in St. Louis, but he will not deposit it this year. Gen. Bussey, however, will go over to New York and cast his vote. Mr. Chandler, the first assistant secretary, who lives in Missouri, will keep the Secretary company in Washington.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT. Maj. S. S. Rockwood, chief clerk of the Agricultural Department, said that it was hard to tell how many clerks in that department had gone home to vote. It was impossible, of leaves of absence at the same time during the hottest part of the summer, and a number of them were off on their regular leave now. Whether they had gone home to vote or not he could not say, nor could be tell how many clerks are away without sending around to the various chiefs of division. A surprisingly large number of voters have this year gone west, while the Maryland and Virginia people have fallen off somewhat in their usual quotas. The Maryland defection can be explained by the passage of the new registration law, which cut off so many former voters in that state. One Maryland club which last year sent over 400 voters into Maryland will this year have hard work to get out 100.

Inquiry at the various ticket offices in this city disclosed the fact that something very like 5,000 voters' tickets had been sold in this city. As has been said, however, this number in many cases includes the families of voters and others who are merely taking advantage of the reduced rate.

IN THE SIXTH DISTRICT. The Campaign Across the Line a Bitter Struggle.

Special Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR.

HAGERSTOWN, MD., Nov. S.-Hagerstown, the county seat, is alive with potiticians today on the eve of the election. Representative men are here from each of the twenty-three districts, and nothing in the history of elections has caused such universal anxiety as the present. This is accounted for by the fact at the election tomorrow the Australian ballot system goes into effect and each party is endeavoring to instruct its voters. This, coupled with the fact that the democrats are making a deter-mined effort to defeat McComas, has aroused the wildest enthusiasm. His advocacy of the Lodge and McKinley bills has lost him the support of many democrats, who previously stood by him, and the coming together on this ocasion of the factions of the democratic party has placed the result in this county—Mr. McComas' home—exceedingly doubtful.

MR. M'COMAS CHEERFUL. This gentleman is cheerful, however, and to THE STAR's representative expressed himself confident of success in the congressional district, not claiming, however, a majority ex-ceeding that by which he defeated Baughman,

On the other hand this is not conceded by the democrats. They have held meetings in every district and have "whooped up" the "boys" to an alarming extent, while, on the other hand, the republicans have not followed this policy.

A careful review of the field, and from canvass made by The Stan's representative from those of both parties who do not permit their judgment to get the best of their preju-dices, it can be safely said that Mr. McComas cannot leave this county, at the outside, with over 200 majority. He beat Baughman in this county by 468 and Douglas by 693.

majority in this county or the result in the congressional district. They claim that the adoption of the untried Australian ballot system in the three largest counties of the district tends to prevent a close calculation of the result, while they still claim a democratic majority on account of republican disaffection.
